“ Kay was always looking for a laugh with his holiday hats that were "kooky"... and to give the children something to talk about - especially in the Gaslight Campground "parades" for every occasion. Kay was a very nice man and friend.

“ My parents and I have know Kay and Sue for over 20 years. When my dad pasted away Kay was the first person to step up and help my mom and I at the campground. He was a wonderful, caring and all around funny guy. I remember him joining in the mash potato fights and dressing up like a clown. He was big kid at heart. He will be missed by all of us. Hugs Kay!!! Say hi to by dad and all of other Gaslight people that are with you.
