“ We know she's at peace but many hearts are heavy with sadness. Prayers for all missing her today and every day going forward. She was an Aunt like no other to me. Our trips their year after year during my childhood is filled with the memory of the big hug she'd greet me with, the smells coming from the kitchen that you just knew was going to taste great, watching her and my dad (her brother Buster) cut up with each and just laugh and laugh. Yes many memories filled with love! Thankful to have seen her one last time before she passed and more thankful knowing she joins so many of our loved ones now that are so happy to welcome her to the fold. Wanda Walker
