To Holly's family and friends,

There are no words to ease your pain.

However, we hold onto the hope of meeting again!

May God bless you with His comfort and strength. Hold each other tight for you all share the same pain and are walking down the same road. My heart breaks for you. I know what losing a sister is like!

Your parents blessed you with the love only sisters can know. Love to you all!

“ I'll miss you're neighborly waves and hello's from across the yard. Our little visits while out walking with Alivia. And she loved that you were always giving her treats! When she was little she would say let's take a walk and if holly is out let's say hello (bc she liked you and wanted Popsicles, lol). You were always so kind and sweet to us and especially Ali. We'll miss ya Holly. I know you're st peace now and no longer suffering. Rest In Peace and we'll see you on the other side!

“ I have taught hundreds of children and some stick in your memory and heart a little more than others. Holly was one of those kids. And so were her children that I taught. I pray that God will comfort them and her family as they will surely miss her.
