“ I'm remembering our childhood; the carefree fun of young girls and the dreams of adolescents. We were cousins but more than that, we were friends. I'm sad that our lives led us apart. I am sorry that my physical location was too far to be there for you in these later years. I take comfort in the promise of our Savior that when we pass from this life into eternity we get new bodies and we will be free from all pain and suffering. Rest in peace, Lori. Until we meet again.. Love, Kelly
