“ DeAnne, we have talked about the concerns we have as parents. It is so sad to see you have now joined my club, the club no parent wants to be in. That silent club is one consisting of a parent who has lost one of the most important parts of their life, a child. Randy's memories will live on forever in your heart. Certain things will make you smile as you remember the Good Days! Oh those good days.... At this Sad human time, remember there is a true spiritual time and place where we can all met again. Let God bring to you (and your family) His Peace that only he can bring. My heart is with you in these hurting times.

“ I remember when you & I went to homecoming.
We took so many pictures with your little brother... you were so excited to go, but when I took this picture you said you weren't going to smile... so neither did I...
This picture has been in a box with pictures of my life and now I'll cherish it a little more...
Randy, rest in piece!
